On Wednesday 16th October eight of our KS3 students, supported by Mr Hitchins and Mrs Dodge, went to the George Marshall Medical Museum within Worcester Royal Infirmary as part of our KS3 Educational Visits programme.

The students were very keen to see how medicine has evolved throughout the years as they were able to link this with aspects they have learned in their History and Science lessons in school – linking 'careers within the curriculum'.

The visit was a huge success and has developed the student's knowledge in this area allowing them to now expand on both their History and Science work back in school.

Our visit has also been posted on both Twitter and Facebook with very positive comments back from the Museum.
